Young Boy Is Lost

—Drowning

Second tragedy within two months involving Central Saanich boys occurred on Saturday afternoon, Jan. 10, when eight-year-old David Fink drowned after a raft, on which he was playing with two friends, capsized. The accident took place in a pond adjoining Patricia Bay Highway, a short distance north of Telegraph Rd.

The young son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fink, 7036 East Saanich Road, had been repeatedly warned not to play in the pond, but temptation proved too strong; and with his pals Hugh Wood and Stewart Fyfe and Hugh's part-Labrador dog Buck, joined in the absorbing but dangerous pastime of raft sailing.

A sudden tip of the raft close to the edge of the pond as the dog scrambled aboard and young Fyfe stepped ashore gave enough momentum to propel it towards the centre of the pond, where it capsized. Hugh Wood grabbed Buck's collar and was pulled to safety by the big dog. David Fink went under.

Two other lads playing nearby ran to where Stewart Fyfe's two brothers, Ken, 19, and John, 16, with a friend Don Alexander were building a barn on the Fyfe property. The three, assisted by Hugh Wood's older brother, Clifford, waded into the chill, muddy waters and soon found young David on the bottom of the pond at a depth of about four feet, and carried him to shore.

Dickson Holloway, a neighbor on East Saanich Road who had been attracted by the commotion, began artificial respiration immediately and continued it until the arrival of two trucks and the ambulance from the Central Saanich Volunteer Fire Department. The inhalator took over from Mr. Holloway and continued working on David Fink all the way to Rest Haven hospital. In spite of further work by Drs. D. R. Ross and R. D. Neufeld, it was impossible to revive the lad.

The young victim's mother is public health nurse at Sidney, and his father, Douglas Fink, has been employed since October on Baffin Island on a DEW line site by the Federal Department of Transport's Arctic patrol division. The couple have one other child, Diane, 11.

Private funeral services are to be held at Sands Funeral Chapel, Sidney, on Thursday, Jan. 15, at 2 p.m., with Rev. O. L. Foster officiating.

FIRST ELECTED CHIEF

Edwin Underwood Becomes New Leader Of Tsaut Band

Edwin Underwood of 2505 Mount Newton Cross Road is the first elected chief of the East Saanich (Tsaut) band. Mr. Underwood, who is 59 years old, is the son of Gus and Catherine Underwood, and is the second youngest of seven children.

The new chief's father died when he was only seven, and his mother and grandmother raised the family. After one year's schooling at Rupert Island, Edwin Underwood was admitted to the Saanich school thanks to the good offices of a number of the Saanich pioneers.

Chief Underwood worked for 13 years for the J. H. Todd Company at the Sooke fish traps as a builder and maintenance supervisor. In 1912, with two of his brothers, Mr. Underwood started building trailers. Combining their labors, the brothers built six of these fishing craft, and use them with great success. Two of Edwin's nephews went into commercial fishing along with their father and uncle, after returning from overseas service during World War II. Mr. Underwood himself uses a 36-foot trawler and fishes successfully each season.

During the off-season, the chief is a householder who does a great deal of work for the Department of Indian Affairs in building, renovating and improving homes for various Indian families on the Saanich Peninsula.

Mr. Underwood's wife is the former Bernadette Thomas of Valdez

POLICE REPORT

Speed Is Blamed For Road Toll

A North Saanich accident causing personal injury occurred, on the average, every second week during 1958, it was revealed this week in a report issued by Sidney R.C.M.P. detachment. As a result of 41 reportable accidents, 26 persons were hurt, two were killed, and property damage of more than $25,000 was caused.

Main accident cause was speed, said Corporal William Stanton. "This is in line with experience across the country," he said, "and it adds emphasis to the old statement, 'slow down and live longer'."

Carelessness and failure to observe traffic signs were lesser causes of accidents.

Major crime was practically non-existent during the year, with robbery of the Sidney liquor store the only case of any magnitude. In that case, the thieves were apprehended in Victoria before there was any local knowledge of the crime.

It is estimated that the total number of charges presented in Sidney police court was about 250.

Dog Training Class Starts This Week

Second training class in the current series will be started by the North Saanich Dog Obedience Club at 8 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 15, in SANSCHA hall. Trainer in charge of this class will be Major A. E. A. Smart.

Owners contemplating entering their dogs are requested to meet at the time noted above for instruction. Dogs will not be required at this lesson, as it is purely for the purpose of acquainting owners in the training methods and equipment needed. At this meeting, dogs will be registered for the course, and a demonstration will be given by the dog which received the highest passing-out marks following the completion of the first class.

All persons who are interested in making good companions out of their dogs are requested to be present at this meeting. An obedient dog, who will answer the commands of his master, is one to be prized, and will give its owner a great deal of pleasure, club directors have stated.

Bulge Battle Begins

THAT'S ME... THAT WAS!

FORMER FEATURE WRITER STARTS DIET

By VIVIAN COWAN

"Well, this has got to stop," I thought, as I watched the indicator on my new bathroom scales finally come to a halt. "That makes 40 pounds I've put on since I came to Sidney seven years ago, and it certainly isn't the leisurely life I lead. Can't blame it on heredity or glands either, so I guess I'll just have to quit eating."

Like most people with a tendency

Mrs. Vivian Cowan, president of Sidney school P.T.A., former member of the Sidney village council, and for many years active in community affairs, begins this week a series of articles on her efforts to lose 40 pounds. Mrs. Cowan will follow a schedule prepared by Stacey's Laboratories, R.R. 1, Sidney, which features the use of their product, Liquid Magic. She has undertaken to furnish readers of The Review with the complete details of her struggle to reduce to the weight she enjoyed seven years ago.

to overweight (to put it delicately), I have periodically tried diets of all kinds. A high protein diet that starts off with nine eggs on the first day, and continues through an expensive array of lamb chops, tomatoes out of season, and other delicacies not normally found in budget meals; fat diets, like nothing but bananas and skim milk; just cottage cheese and fruit; and just straight calorie counting. For this one you need to carry an adding machine.

Oh, yes, it's easy enough to count

MRS. CURELL PASSES SUDDENLY

Mrs. Ellen S. Curell, wife of William F. Curell, Patricia Bay Highway, passed away suddenly at Rest Haven hospital on Saturday, Jan. 10. Surviving are her husband, two sons, Ronald and Donald of Edmonton, and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at Sands Funeral Chapel, Sidney, on Tuesday, Jan. 13, with Rev. C. F. Orman officiating. Interment was at Holy Trinity churchyard.

Abandon Search For Fisherman

Search has been abandoned for John Hasmussen of Prevest, Wash., whose gillnet was found aground on the west side of Moresby Island last Saturday. The boat was towed to Shoal Harbor Marine Service Ltd. by Sidney fisherman Willie Egeland, who found it when fishing nearby.

The boat was fully equipped, and the fact that the engine key was in the "on" position led to the belief that the occupant of the boat probably fell overboard. Search was conducted by Gauges detachment, R.C.M.P., and was joined in by the U.S. Coast Guard.

REEVE AGREES TO TRY, BUT ONLY ONCE MORE

—Civil Defence

J. C. I. Edwards, Civil Defence co-ordinator for the Greater Victoria Mutual Aid Area, got a rough reception when he appeared before Central Saanich council Monday afternoon to urge that the municipality's civil defence planning committee be revived.

"I'm not impressed," said Reeve H. R. Brown. "We've been hearing the same old stuff for years. The last man who came out here even threatened to club people over the head. I'm not a fool. I'm not going to listen to people like that."

"If somebody will come who can talk sense, then I'm willing to listen," the reeve said.

Slegg Bros. Open Branch In Victoria

Moving of their John Deere farm machinery agency headquarters to Victoria has been announced by Slegg Bros., Sidney hardware merchants. The new centre is to be located at the corner of Douglas St. and Tolmie Ave.

"Sales of machinery have been very encouraging since we first undertook the agency more than two years ago," said Eric Slegg, who, with his brother Maurice, manages the Sidney firm. "We believe that they will further improve in our new location, which is on the main traffic route into Victoria from up-Island points as well as Sidney."

A new company, to be known as Slegg Bros. Machinery Ltd., has been formed to carry on the new undertaking, which will open next month.

NEW WHARF AT SIDNEY TO SERVE FOR LONGER PERIOD?

—Greater Service Hinted

Sidney will take on a new significance in the field of transportation if the plans of Washington State Ferries go ahead in accordance with the recent announcement by C. E. Blaney, Vancouver Island agent.

Mr. Blaney addressed a meeting of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce recently when he stated that a "substantial increase" would be made in the passenger carrying capacity of the ferries between the two ports. The agent did not explain exactly what plans were being formulated, but he did emphasize that the carrying capacity would be increased and that the season's schedule would be extended.

This promise of bigger and better services into Sidney coincides with the commencement of work on the new wharf at the south end of Second St. Pacific Pile Driving Co. Ltd. is all geared up to commence the installation of the new wharf.

Also concerned with the wharf is the provincial government and its projected ferry service between Sidney and the mainland. When the two new vessels already on order are built for the run they will operate out of the new wharf at the west end of their run.

Hitherto the Washington State Ferries have operated the Sidney run from March until the end of October.

AT PATRICIA BAY

WHARF AND FERRY OPEN TO OWNERS' TRAFFIC ONLY

Pacific Perini Ltd., contractors at Patricia Bay Airport for the strengthening of the runways, are going into the marine business in a big way. The contracting firm, which has brought many thousands of dollars' worth of equipment here for the project is manufacturing its own wharf and will inaugurate a new ferry service across the Saanich Inlet.

The new wharf is being constructed with less delay than has characterized many such projects in the area and the ferry service will operate irrespective of provincial or international agreements.

GRAVEL PORT

Purpose of the venture is to ship gravel across the inlet from the Hambyton area to the airport. The gravel will be employed for fill for the runway project. The two units, ferry and wharf, will be for the private use of the contractor and will not be available for public transportation.

Gravel will be brought into the wharf on a site immediately adjacent to the Patricia Bay marine base. It will then be trucked to the airport without causing any heavy traffic burden on local residential areas.

W.I. members will hold their regular monthly meeting on the evening of January 20 at the Institute hall. The following Wednesday evening, January 21, will be the date of the next "500" party.

Ladies recently honored by the Institute for long membership are: Mrs. Richard Nimmo of Prosser Road, Mrs. F. Handy of 6645 Central Saanich, and Mrs. Shearing of Brentwood, who is a patient at Mount St. Mary's. Each was given a copy of the centennial cook book put out by the Women's Institutes.

The new C.Y.O., formed under the direction of Father William Mudge, made plans to meet weekly, and to travel to other C.Y.O. centres on the island to take part in special events.

Executive officers elected by the young people were: president, Thelma Sampson (Tsartlip); vice-president, Pauline Jones (Tsehum); secretary, Norman Underwood (Tsaut); and treasurer, Frances Elliott (Tsartlip). An executive meeting will be held to appoint various committee chairmen.

Following the business meeting, dancing was enjoyed by the group.

MORE ABOUT CHIEF

his suggestion turned down. The East Saanich band has, however, had elected councillors for a number of years. Mr. Underwood has served in this capacity for the past 20 years, under Chief Willie Laurie and the last of the old chiefs, Louie Pelkey. Following Mr. Pelkey's death, Richard Harry, his nearest kin, was acting chief until the election of Mr. Underwood.

The new chief has long been an active worker on behalf of his people, having served as one of five Indian leaders with the late Percy Ross for the Indian Days Celebrations held in conjunction with the Victoria Day holiday at Songhees Reserve. This Christmas he was instrumental, along with his pastor, Rev. Father Philip Hanley, in securing Christmas hampers from the Colonist "500 Fund" for 53 needy Indian families.

MOTHER'S ADVICE

In his work and his dealings with people, Chief Underwood likes to follow the advice of his late mother, who told him to "keep his ears open, his eyes open, and his mouth shut". When he does talk, however, he is an excellent speaker, full of sound sense and good ideas. The Tsaut band should benefit much from his chieftainship.

A Scotsman with an English accent is no rarity, but an Englishman with a Scottish accent is something else again. Such is Edwin "Scotty" Wilkinson, son of John John-son's Brentwood B.A. garage.

Born in Morecambe, Lancashire, "Scotty" was taken to Scotland by his parents (a blacksmith and bicycle shop operator), and a theatrical costume caterer, in 1914, when he was but a year old. Following the usual thorough Scottish schooling, "Scotty" Wilkinson learned his trade of mechanic and machinist in Glasgow.

Leaving Scotland in 1948 with his wife, Agnes, he went to Edmonton, where he enlarged his automotive knowledge with service work on American cars, tractors, and earth moving equipment.

After two years of work at Victoria Machinery Depot, "Scotty" Wilkinson is looking forward with keen enthusiasm to running the Brentwood Garage, and offering service on all types of cars as well as on boat engines. His knowledge and enthusiasm should prove an asset to the community.

RETURN HOME FROM HOLIDAY IN CALIFORNIA

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Beardsley have returned to their home at the foot of Harding Lane, Brentwood, following a holiday with friends and relatives in San Francisco.

While in the city, Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley stayed in Stonestown, the city-within-a-city which was founded by Victoria-born Henry Staneson and became a model for self-contained housing developments in many North American cities.

The Beardsleys were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Catlett, who are frequent visitors here and great boosters of Brentwood.

A tour through the wineries of the Napa Valley, where the making of red wine has become a fine art, was one of the most interesting highlights of their trip.

BRENTWOOD

On Monday afternoon last, Miss Heather Duncan resumed the dancing classes after a few weeks' holiday. The classes should have commenced the previous Monday but were postponed because of bad weather. There are classes during the afternoon for the various age groups, held at the W.I. hall, West Saanich Road. Miss Duncan teaches highland, ballet and modern dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wood have returned to their home on Verdier Ave., after spending a few weeks holidaying in Edmonton where they have been visiting with their daughter and son-in-law and family.

Mr. and Mrs. N. Olorenshaw have left for Florida where they will spend a few weeks. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Carson from Unity, Sask., are residing at the Olorenshaw home until their return.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Timan are spending two weeks' holiday in Hawaii, where they travelled by plane. Their daughter and son-in-law from Vancouver are visiting with the other members of the family at their home on Sea Drive.

First meeting of the year of the United Church W.A. afternoon group will be held on Thursday at 2 p.m. at the home of Mrs. G. Bickford, West Saanich Road. New members or friends are heartily welcome.

GANGES COURT

Appearing in police court at Ganges on January 8, before Stipendiary Magistrate H. C. Nonkes, Douglas Greenough was fined $15 and costs on a charge of being in possession of liquor.

Kenneth Johnson was fined $15 and costs for supplying liquor to a person under the age of 21 years, and on January 9, Don Irwin was fined $15 and costs on a charge of careless driving.

P.T.A. TOLD OF MIDDEN EXCAVATIONS

Anthropologist J. E. N. Kew was guest speaker at the meeting of North Saanich high school P.T.A. on Monday evening. He gave an interesting account of excavations of kitchen middens made over the last two years on one of the Gulf Islands. The lecture impressed the audience with the vast store of prehistoric information which can be gathered from such a systematic search. Among articles found in the investigation were soapstone ornaments such as were made by the present-day Eskimo, but belonging to a much earlier period.

President L. R. Christian thanked Mr. Kew for his address. During the meeting D. E. Breckenridge, school principal, reported that the sales of hot soup at the noon-hour break were most encouraging. These sales had been sponsored by the P.T.A.

SAFETY FIRST

COMMISSIONER J. E. Bosher, of Sidney village council is campaigning for a provision which will gain the enthusiastic support of parents throughout the entire district. Representative from Sidney to the Capital Region Planning Board, Commissioner Bosher has urged that the highways in the vicinity of schools be provided with foot-paths for the use of students making their way to and from their homes.

The provision would be inexpensive, for there is no suggestion of paving the walks. They would also provide for a safe and convenient means of access whereby the present problems of students playing on busy highways would be eliminated.

We have every sympathy with the proposal and we would even welcome an extension of the scheme to see such provision required compulsorily. Motorists have long deplored the danger represented by students on the highways and parents have been concerned at the necessity of their children parading along the busy traffic routes.

Commissioner Bosher's proposal would be the logical answer to the problem.

HIGHWAY DEVELOPMENT

A YEAR or two ago Hon. P. A. Gagliardi, British Columbia's effervescent minister of highways, did a first-class job in reconstruction of Mills Road in North Saanich. Traffic now purrs along this busy thoroughfare. This is as it should be.

But hard by Mills Road are two other thoroughfares which have been neglected for far too long. We refer to Wilson Road and to Munro Road. Both these roads are in a deplorable state of repair. They have never been hard-surfaced. Gravel has been dumped on them at different times but no effort made to bring them up to a decent standard. During recent rains the surface was pitted with pot holes and travel was exceedingly difficult.

Property owners served by Wilson Road and Munro Road have paid their taxes just as loyally as any other residents of North Saanich. Let us hope that they will shortly be given a decent road to travel over. Cost of re-grading, gravelling and hard-surfacing would be trivial, we are confident.

IT'S OUR MONEY THEY'RE WASTING

WHEN Sidney village council assembled for the first time this year the members of the council expressed strong criticism of the requirement that a budget be prepared.

Under the terms of the Municipal Act, explained Commissioner T. A. Aiers, chairman of the finance committee, the budget must be presented, although it is not used, its contents have no bearing on the year's financial operation and the nature of the budget is not revealed to the provincial government calling for the work.

There have been many criticisms of the Municipal Act. Some have been substantial while others have been forgotten as the terms under which those criticisms were made have been absorbed into the routine.

This requirement that the village prepare an early and utterly valueless budget is an imposition and unless it can be justified by the government above the criticisms of the council, then it should be eliminated forthwith and the council permitted to spend their donated time on matters of significance to the community.

Letters To The Editor

SLOW THINKING

Editor, Review,
Sir—

In 50 years of close observation in Canada and the United States, I find that people in this area are slow thinkers in the intimate affairs of their own destiny, and blunder along regardless of consequences.

Recently, we have underrated and slandered the Russian rulers. Less recently, the Germans did much the same, and intruded themselves on Russian territory in the hope of eventually occupying all Europe, and their blunder has been well demonstrated. Now the Russian scientists have placed a mechanical contention above this planet's gravitational influence, which is an accomplishment of astonishing proportions.

In their civil war, the Russians threw away most of their old way of living, including a considerable amount of superstition. The greatest blunder of all time will be enacted if we in North America continue.

L. H. COX TO ADDRESS SANSBURY P.T.A.

L. H. Cox, president of P.T.A. council, will speak at the next Sansbury P.T.A. meeting which is to be held at the school on Tuesday, Jan. 20.

At the December meeting of the P.T.A., the new constitution and by-laws were adopted. A centennial film of British Columbia was shown with Mrs. M. Litwin as narrator. Following the meeting, refreshments were served.

On December 18, a concert was put on by students of Sansbury school at the pavilion of the Experimental Station and enjoyed by all. Several plays, dances and flute-tune selections were presented, and on behalf of the P.T.A. Mrs. D. E. Ross thanked students and especially teachers for such a delightful evening. Flowers were presented to Miss M. Lane and M. Fry, and each child received a treat from Santa.

THE PROGRAM

Twenty ounces a day, plus all the clear tea, coffee or water I want. A multiple vitamin supplement that is advised to keep a normal balance of all vitamins; a check with my doctor after I've lost 10 pounds; a tape measure for vital statistics (not for publication) and I'm on my way.

Mr. Stacey says he lost a pound a day during the first two weeks, and was quite satisfied with his 20 ounces of Liquid Magic, divided as best suited his needs. Sounds wonderful, doesn't it? Come to join me. I'm planning a new suit for Easter, at least two sizes smaller.

Kinsmen Helped Her To Walk

Karen Scouler of Richmond is very happy today because she can walk and play with other children. Karen was born with a defective spine and could neither sit nor walk until last year when funds from the Kinsmen-sponsored Mothers' March enabled her to have treatments at the rehabilitation centre. She has been provided with leg braces and crutches and is a regular visitor for treatments which include physiotherapy and schooling. In 1958 more than 500 disabled persons were given assistance in this way. The 1959 Mothers' March which raises funds for this work takes place on January 31.

Snow Time Is Time To Feed The Greedy Little Birds

By B.C.H.

Snow is falling this Monday morning, as it is in most places. Even the fair City of Victoria has its share this time (someone will have to speak to the Chamber of Commerce about that). You just can't trust the weatherman, and that's a fact. The moan of foghorns and anxious toot of boats at sea cut through an otherwise silent night, for there is nothing worse than a blizzard on the water.

The snow flakes drifted down with their endless hush and covered all the world with their white beauty, until even that pile of sticks that didn't get cleared away last year, is now a thing of beauty. But the silent morning was broken by the tap of the birds as they flocked around the feeding places on the front porch.

The greedy, ever hungry blue jays, rushing in to grab all the biggest and smallest bits. The little junco, the tiny wrens, and many other well-known feathered friends, they all come at daybreak, and that's the first thing you do, open the door and throw out all the crumbs and pieces you can find.

BIG JOB
It's an all day job. From early

FIRST MEETING OF NEW YEAR FOR W.A. AFTERNOON BRANCH

First meeting in the New Year of St. Augustine's Afternoon Branch of the W.A. to missions of the Anglican Church was held on Friday at the home of Mrs. A. F. C. Watts, Deep Cove Road, with a full attendance. Mrs. E. S. Coleman, former secretary, who had just returned from Ottawa, was welcomed back. Mrs. Anderson was welcomed as a new member.

President, Mrs. Herbert Smith was in the chair, and opened the meeting with the W.A. service.

The treasurer, Mrs. Watts, gave a splendid report, and an explanation of the meaning and the use of the thank-offering boxes.

Among plans for this year was the spring tea to be held on April 15 in St. Augustine's hall.

morning, until the last trace of light, the birds feed, so your morning porridge, bits of toast, suet, seeds, it all goes down those hungry little gullets, to feed the best friends a person has—our birds.

And it is a joy to watch the scene of activity outside all our windows, for at every home, it is the same story. We all feed our little feathered friends—and love doing it.

"Unto you therefore which believe, He is precious."—1 Peter 2:7.

Things of great value such as jewelry and antiques are often called precious and are hidden away in vaults or in other safe places where they cannot be lost or stolen. Hence, while they may be valuable in a monetary sense, they have become useless.

Yet some inexpensive article may be very valuable because we use it constantly.

It would seem that we could learn something for ourselves if we would apply this idea of "precious" to the verse mentioned. Just how do we esteem the value of Christ to our own lives. Do we consider Him as some piece of jewelry to be kept in a secluded place, or do we know Him as a personal friend who is very precious because He is ever near to help and so has worth in a real and practical way? This is the way He would want it for He has promised to be a very present help in trouble.

Let us remember that He is eternal. He will not wear out, He cannot be lost and none can steal Him so let us bring Him into our lives where He is available. Then we will be able to use Him as friend and counsellor and He will be precious in the way the Bible intends.

United Church W.A. President Is Installed

United Church Women's Association met at the home of Mrs. W. Byers in Ganges last week, with Mrs. F. H. A. Reid presiding. Eighteen members heard annual reports presented, with the treasurer's report showing that a most successful year had been concluded. A letter of thanks was read from W. M. Mout on behalf of the United Church Board.

Rev. C. G. MacKenzie took the chair for the installation of new officers who were elected at the last meeting, returning Mrs. Reid for another term of office. Mr. MacKenzie thanked the organization for their long service for the church, and spoke of their changing outlook, toward lessening future activities. He Following installation, Mrs. Reid thanked the ladies for their confidence in re-electing her. The devotional period was taken by Mrs. W. M. Mout, entitled "Toward the Sunrise".

Mrs. C. G. Mackenzie was elected missionary secretary, with the flower committee for the church including Mrs. W. LeFevre and Mrs. J. Catto. Hostesses were Mrs. W. Byers and Mrs. H. Ashley.

MORE ABOUT TRUSTEE DANE

APPRECIATION

John C. Lawrence, recently appointed principal of the Ganges elementary-senior high school was introduced to the board, and expressed his appreciation of the many courtesies extended to himself and his family by the board and "the friendly people of the district."

The 1959 budget was the main item of business to be dealt with. A tentative draft had been prepared in advance by the financial committee consisting of Trustees Humphreys, Campbell and Gardner. This draft was revised and amended by the board as a whole, and will be submitted for the approval of the department of education early in February.

REFERENDUM

Last summer the board prepared a referendum totalling $26,700 to provide urgent capital requirements over the district during the next three years. This has now been approved by the department and will be submitted to a vote of the taxpayers on February 19. Full details will be issued in leaflet form, and will be in the hands of all ratepayers early in February.

Mr. Heinecke was appointed convenor of a committee, including Mr. Gardner and Mr. Humphreys, to revise the scale of rentals on the Mahon hall and to facilitate its use by the smaller organizations of the community.

Pensioners' Group Shows Fine Growth During Year

Annual dinner of Sidney Branch No. 25 of the Old Age Pensioners' Association was held in the K.P. hall, Sidney, on Thursday, Jan. 8. There were 35 members present, and several visitors, including the president and secretary of Victoria Branch No. 5, who brought greetings from the members of that branch, and wished the members of Sidney branch success in the year 1959.

After dinner, President Sam Preece welcomed the members and visitors. Musical portion of the program was under the direction of Tom Yates, who had provided several prominent singers and musicians, including Mrs. Grace Beswick, Mrs. Madeline Till, Mrs. Arthur Byford, and Frank Aldridge.

PROPOSES TOAST

Mr. Preece called on Secretary-treasurer R. Thompson to propose a toast to members and visitors. John Milling of the Victoria branch joined.

Primitive Americans worked by firelight at least 8,000 years ago in Russell Cave in Jackson County, Alabama.

plied, stressing the benefits that would come through the organization. Community singing was under the direction of Frank Aldridge.

A very encouraging report was given by the secretary, which showed growth both numerically and financially since the group was formed one year ago.

DEMAND HELP

"This is the only organization that is in a position to forward to our government a demand for a pension that will be adequate to meet ever-rising living costs, and for a comprehensive health scheme that will ensure us a healthy and fuller life," Mr. Thompson said.

"It is only returning to us a very small portion of what we have contributed to the building of this broad land of ours."

Executive members were thanked for their efforts in providing the dinner, and Sidney Cash and Carry, Stan's Food Centre, Laird's Pay Less, the Beacon Cafe, The Review, and Knights of Pythias were also mentioned as having assisted the association.

The deceased, a former president of Gulf Islands branch of the Canadian Legion, passed away in Veterans' hospital, Victoria, following a short illness.

Last rites were conducted by Rev. Richard N. Mugford, Anglican rector. Floral tributes were particularly numerous. The hymn, "Peace, Perfect Peace" was sung. Interment followed in Royal Oak cemetery.

Because of engine trouble in a boat, several Legion members from Mayne and Galiano Islands were unable to attend the service.

HIGH TRADES TOO—So Smallest Dollar Difference

B.C.'s Young Giant

Since its inception in 1945, the British Columbia Power Commission has had but one objective — to help British Columbians live better electrically!

To reach this goal, the Commission was met with the challenge of keeping pace with the phenomenal growth and development in a booming British Columbia!

Generating facilities were developed—and expanded . . . transmission lines were built—and extended, so that the new and existing industry and homes in the area served could have electrical service second-to-none . . . at the lowest possible cost.

It has been a successful task! Today, serving nearly 80,000 families in more than 200 communities, the Power Commission undoubtedly stands as a young giant in Canada's Pacific Coast Province with 12 vigorous years of electrical progress under its belt, and a keen eye towards expansion in the future.

POWER MEANS PROGRESS!

AN APPRECIATION

Walter B. Kay - Island Veteran

Walter Byron Kay died in the Veteran's hospital, Victoria, a few days ago. The Last Post was sounded for another old soldier, for another veteran had ended the long, long trail which started on August 4, 1914, a trail hallowed by the sacrifices of countless comrades, from those of H.M.S. Amphion, sunk by enemy action before the trail was 24 hours old, to those of us who still survive, but who must in the not too distant future foregather again with our comrades of the thin red line, for whom the trail has already ended.

Walter did his service with the 2nd C.M.R., a battalion that always seemed to find itself where the going was roughest. From the war he returned with an arm badly damaged by shrapnel, a permanent reminder of what war means to the front line soldier. Despite this handicap, which meant frequent periods in hospital, in civil life he was always most cheerful and industrious.

He was one of that gallant band of veterans whose service did not end on the battlefield, but who brought back to civil life the camaraderie of the trenches. Only too well did he realize, with many others, that perhaps the greatest fights had not been fought in the mud, filth and flying steel on the fields of France, Flanders, Gallipoli, but a greater fight remained. Many did not return, but their wives and small children remained, with no bread-winner. Many returned, maimed and broken in flesh, but not in spirit. To those who survived the legacy was clear. An effort must be made to see that these sacrifices were not made in vain, and that as far as legislation could, the lot of the widow and orphan, of the maimed must be made smooth. To have stood on those blood-drenched fields, seeing the best of our manhood "Go West", gave a wisdom that age could not give. No longer should the old rhyme...

"When the war is won, the wrong is righted, God is forgotten, and the soldier slighted" prevail again for the returned man. Much of his later life was unstintingly devoted to the cause of his comrades-in-arms, on whom adverse fate had frowned. For around 20 years he was a member of Gulf Islands Branch No. 34, the Canadian Legion; an active member who deemed it a privilege to hold office, and devote his energies to those things for which the Legion was founded, and for the welfare of those in need. In Branch No. 34, he had many terms of office, but will be chiefly remembered as president for many terms, an office he held at the time of his death, and for his work as welfare officer. In work outside the branch, his work as branch delegate at various zone, provincial and Dominion conventions will be an ever-living monument to him.

The late Comrade Kay was a doughty fighter, who would never say "die", and would hold his corner in the face of most things. It was this unwillingness to admit defeat, when the rights of the veteran, or any other apparent injustice, was in question, that usually enabled him to gain his point, despite the opposition.

His memory will linger long in the branch, and in zone councils, at which he was a regular attendee as branch representative. Of him we can truly say that his wise counsel, ready appreciation of the pith of any matter, and his fighting spirit, will make his place at our meetings difficult to fill, but will leave for his successors a clearly lighted, but difficult path to follow. "Ich Dien" could very truly have been his motto, and to us to whom his torch

Funeral Party Near Disaster

Veterans from Mayne and Galiano Islands were unable to complete their journey last week to the funeral of the late Walter B. Kay of Saturna. Mourners were close to being lost at sea en route to the last rites.

A party left the islands aboard the seiner, Winitred. In Active Pass the engine broke down and the vessel was left at the mercy of a high sea. The water was running white in the near-gale and the boat was drifting badly when the James Douglas came to the rescue. The larger vessel put out a power lifeboat and towed the crippled fishboat to the government wharf at Mayne.

Seen arriving on Friday's boat from Vancouver were Miss E. Clarkson, Miss Carol Robson, Fred Robson, Bob Marshall and Bob Bambrick.

SATURNA

Saturna had its first carol singers, doing the rounds on December 23 and 24. On the 23rd the group, Mr. and Mrs. J. Yates, Mr. and Mrs. G. Sargeant and Mrs. K. Andersen, accompanied by Mr. Andersen, who kindly put his car at their disposal, sang Noel, Hark the Herald Angels Sing, and Silent Night over the telephone to five island homes, not easily accessible or too distant, before singing door to door in the Lyall Harbor district. On Christmas Eve the same group did the houses from the wharf to Moneys, being welcomed indoors and given a warm tot, or glass of wine, and lots of cheery chatter, here and there. An old tradition has been started here on the island, many of us not having heard carols at our doors for 50 or 60 years.

On New Year's Eve, islanders had a New Year party, with Mrs. Drader acting as hostess and helped throughout the evening by Mrs. G. Sargeant. The music was provided, as usual, by Mr. and Mrs. W. Warlow and various items were given by Miss Betty Money, Mrs. Drader, Mrs. Yates and Mr. Sargeant. From 10 p.m. until midnight we danced and then as 1959 came in, we linked hands in the old traditional way

EXPERIMENTAL FARM NOTES

WEEKLY REPORT OF NORTH SAANICH STATION

Progressive farmers through the years have used the findings of the research laboratories and the experimental farms to advantage. We can scarcely think of any crop or farm practice that has not been improved in some way by agricultural research during the past 10 years. Examples such as dwarf apples, sawdust mulching, chemical weed control and bunker silos readily come to mind. In Canada productivity per man hour has advanced more rapidly in agriculture than in any other part of the economy, but despite increasing efficiency the farmers' net returns have not kept pace. The proportion of farmers' gross income going into current expenses has increased from 54 per cent in 1944 to 65 per cent in 1954 and only by increased output have farmers been able to stay in business. The efforts of the experimental farms and the illustration stations working in close co-operation with the extension services often appear to be forcing farmers out of business by increasing production and efficiency and thereby competition among farmers while in fact low cost production is their only defence against outside competition from other agricultural areas.

Surprisingly enough, it is the non-farm population that has gained the most from an efficient agricultural industry producing an abundance of high quality food at reasonable prices. Today a farm population of only 17 per cent of the total Canadian population is producing an exportable surplus of 28 per cent over national food requirements, yet receives only seven per cent of the national income. By comparison, India has 70 per cent of her population engaged in a primitive type of farming and still has to import large quantities of food. Russian state owned farms in spite of their large size and emphasis on mechanization require twice the labor input of American farms for grain production and seven times as much labor for hog production.

The rapid development of North American industry has depended heavily on an abundance of low cost food and the continuous migration of farm youth to the city with fewer facilities to supply the food requirements of the nation. No doubt this trend will continue and farming as a way of life will be overtaken by the completely commercialized farms dependent on an advanced technology and an extension service providing recipes for maximum production and returns. Farm people will accept these changes reluctantly yet with the realization that unless they do competition will force them out of business or reduce them to a subsistence level of living. High living standards for the nation depend on a high level of output from the complex of industries which employ natural resources. The agricultural industry based on progressive research, sound extension and competent farmers plays its part effectively in this complex.

SPEAKS ON HEATHER

North Saanich Garden Club held its regular meeting in the Hotel Sidney on Thursday evening, Jan. 8, with the president, Charles Hunt, in the chair. Though the attendance was not large, there was the usual enthusiasm, and all present enjoyed the talk on heathers, given by H. Wilson of the Wilson Heather Nurseries, West Saanich Road.

By planting only six varieties of heather it is possible to have continuous bloom throughout the year, Mr. Wilson told the meeting. He also answered many questions asked by the members.

Mrs. Hammond reported on SANS-CHA, and told of the garden club members decorating the hall with greenery for the new year's dance. A letter of thanks was received from the association.

Mrs. B. N. Andrews accepted the position of convener for the spring flower show, with Mrs. J. Mitchell as her assistant. G. Smith was appointed to publicity and programs.

Mr. McHaffie was made librarian. One of two plywood plant containers which he had donated to the club was auctioned off by J. Watson.

The question box contained some surprises, but all were answered by Mr. Watson and the president.

The true story of one small borrower...and "MY BANK"

A few weeks ago, Julian Janvrin, an Englishman by birth now living in Toronto, came upon this headline in his daily newspaper: "Bank of Montreal Deposits Top the Three Billion Mark". A depositor at the B of M since shortly after his arrival in Canada five years ago, Mr. Janvrin was prompted by the headline to write a letter to Gordon R. Ball, president of the B of M, outlining his experiences as both a depositor and borrower at Canada's first bank. We thought Mr. Janvrin's story of his struggle against adversity was worth repeating, and with his permission, have made it the basis of this advertisement.

The Success Story of Julian Janvrin...

Julian Janvrin is the last person in the world to say that his is a success story. We think it is. But you can judge for yourself.

FIVE YEARS AGO, shortly after his arrival in Canada with his wife and three children, Mr. Janvrin had occasion to cash a cheque at his local B of M branch in Toronto. "Although I had told the manager that I was just an immigrant," he recalls, "he invited me to open an account, and it was gratifying to me to feel that my confidence in the future of Canada was reciprocated by the Bank of Montreal. Two or three weeks later I opened an account at that branch."

Like most newcomers to Canada, Mr. Janvrin had only enough capital when he arrived to get himself settled, and eventually he found himself short in meeting the final payment on his car, which was essential in his new job as a salesman. So he talked over his problem with his B of M manager, who considered him a good enough risk to advance him the money he needed.

But let Mr. Janvrin continue the story in his own words: "I mention this because bankers are sometimes charged with being little more than moneylenders and usurers, but in this instance, I knew that the Bank of Montreal was acting as it were on behalf of the people of Canada in helping me to get established in much the same way as in pioneer days the Bank of Montreal must have advanced funds to immigrants to purchase seed, a few implements and maybe a team of horses."

An average Canadian family: Mr. & Mrs. Janvrin and their two children relax at 11 in their comfortable Toronto apartment.

But let Mr. Janvrin continue the story in his own words: "I mention this because bankers are sometimes charged with being little more than moneylenders and usurers, but in this instance, I knew that the Bank of Montreal was acting as it were on behalf of the people of Canada in helping me to get established in much the same way as in pioneer days the Bank of Montreal must have advanced funds to immigrants to purchase seed, a few implements and maybe a team of horses."

"Soon afterwards I gave up selling, disposed of the car and took a regular job by night, while my wife by day quite literally took the heels out of doughnuts. One of us was able always to be with the children, two of whom were not then of school age."

"Fifteen months later we decided to obtain cheaper rental accommodation outside Toronto. A car, however, would then be essential. Again the bank went along with us. "Two years ago the landlord of the house we were renting decided to sell the house. Again the Bank of Montreal helped us and advanced the down payment that prevented our home being sold over our heads."

"This summer my son, having passed through six grades in three years at public school, sat for the competitive entrance examination to a school for which I would have to pay an annual fee... For this, too, I am in large measure indebted to the Bank of Montreal, for in June my financial circumstances were such that had I not been confident of my banker's support, I might not have ever considered sending him to this school."

"We have now again moved into Toronto to be nearer the school, but our circumstances have improved, inasmuch as our teenage daughter has now left high school of her own wish and is now working; and as the two younger children are now at school, my wife in the New Year will be in a position to take an office job."

"This is not a success story, for the struggle, believe me, is still on. But our bank account is now in better shape than it has been for the past five years and will now perhaps bear scrutiny. "I am now, therefore, at last in a position to write to thank My Bank and in particular my bank manager, for the confidence it placed in us and for the help, encouragement and courtesy it has always extended to us."

"To me it is no surprise that the deposits of the Bank of Montreal should have topped the 3-billion mark, for although from the short term point of view I myself am not yet in a position to make large deposits, it may well be from the long term point of view, that my son, as a representative of the coming generation, may be in a position to do as other sons of Canada are now doing."

The B of M is, of course, proud to have played its part in Julian Janvrin's success story, and is grateful to him for allowing us to publish it to indicate some of the many ways in which Canada's first bank works with Canadians—new and old alike—in every walk of life from coast to coast.

Mr. Janvrin's story provides a sincere and unsolicited testimonial to the fact that "When you ask for a loan at the Bank of Montreal, you do not ask a favor."

When money is a problem with you, why not see your B of M manager? If your proposition is sound and reasonable, there's money for you at the B of M... at the lowest rates and on the fairest terms.

"Get to know your banker," says Mr. Janvrin. "Your best collateral is his confidence." A spare-time free-lance writer, he spends many evenings at his typewriter while the children study.

Now your own son, Mr. Janvrin, is a student at one of Canada's top preparatory schools, thanks to a loan from My Bank.

CHAPTER XXVII

OVERLANDERS

The history should revert a moment to 1841. This was the year Samuel Black who was in charge of the fort was murdered in his home by an Indian, a nephew of Chief Tranquille. The chief had died suddenly, soon after meeting with Black and the nephew held Black responsible, and shot him.

Black's friends immediately began to terrorize the Indians. John Tod, factor of Fort Alexandria came in and restored good relations, then stayed on. Black's murderer was tracked down by his tribesmen but hurled himself into the Fraser and drowned before they could extract vengeance.

The Thompson River and Tranquille Creek yielded gold nuggets to the Indians in 1862 and they brought them to the fort where they were transhipped to Victoria. Victoria immediately sent back a shipment of spades and instructions to befriend the poor Indians. Kamloops began to feel the weight of the gold rush, and the H.B.C. changed to outfitting from trading.

Among the first waves of greenhorns to rush into the area were the long-suffering Overlanders.

The Overlanders were organized in eastern Canada and the eastern states by promoters who took their money and promised to guide them to riches. For the most part they found misery, untold hazard and often death, for they were ill-advised, ill-equipped and inexperienced.

One party of 150 left Fort Garry (near modern Winnipeg) in 1862 and travelled via Red River, Saskatchewan, Jasper House and Tete Jaune Cache to the source of the North Thompson. En route, they were forced to eat their cows and ended their trips often floating down treacherous rivers on barren rafts.

Stubbornly, many won through. Among that party was the Schubert family of St. Paul, Minnesota. The day after their arrival at Fort Kamloops by raft, Mrs. Schubert gave birth to the first white girl born in the interior. Rose Schubert, later Mrs. Mary Swanson of Armstrong. She died in 1918.

Among other Overlanders were Joe Mara who built a store; William Fortune, who ranched at Tranquille and built the interior's first flour mill.

FATHER DEMERS

The first Christian missionary to reach Kamloops was a Catholic priest, Father Demers in 1842. The first Protestant minister was Rev. R. G. Brown in 1861.

The Canadian Pacific Railway reached Kamloops in 1885. The telegraph had got there seven years earlier. By 1884 there were two steamers operating on the Thompson River and Kamloops and Shuswap Lakes—Bill Fortune's Lady Dufferin and J. A. Mara's Peerless.

The first newspaper appeared in 1884, the Inland Sentinel of Michael

INFANT SON OF BRENTWOOD COUPLE CALLED

Harley Arno Pfefferkorn, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudie Pfefferkorn (nee May Johnson), Stellys Cross Road, passed away at Rest Haven hospital shortly after his birth on Thursday, Jan. 8. He is survived by his parents and his great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Wesley Cowell of Sidney.

Private funeral services were held at Sands Funeral Chapel, Sidney, on Saturday, Jan. 10, and interment was at Royal Oak cemetery.

Hagen which had been started at Emory, near Yale in 1880. Kamloops had a fire department and hospital both started in 1884 and the first waterworks in 1880.

A CITY

Kamloops was incorporated as a city in 1893 and the first mayor was Dr. Sibree Clarke, druggist and physician.

One of the most famous stories of the Kamloops area is a story of crime and punishment—the story of the McLean Brothers, Allan, Charles, Archie, Hector and their friend, Nick Hare. The McLean brothers were the half-breed sons of a former Fort Kamloops factor.

In 1879 Charlie and Allan were arrested for bringing stolen horses over the border from the U.S. Nick Hare helped them escape. Government agent and constable, John Ussher chased after them. The boys had decided to lead a revolt of Indians against the whites and become rulers of the interior. But Ussher's party caught up to them.

Ussher was killed as he attempted an unarmed parley. Later the fleeing boys killed a shepherd.

The Indians refused to join their revolt and a new posse went after them, caught them and lodged them in Kamloops gaol. From there they were taken in chains on sleighs to New Westminster. After two trials, they were hanged. Archie, 15, and Nick Hare, 16, were the youngest boys ever hanged in B.C.

NEW LIFE

Balancing this tale of death is a story of new life at Tranquille, a few miles west of Kamloops.

Tranquille, an old camping ground on the Brigade Trail a few miles west of Kamloops, was named after an Indian chief. During the 1856-57 period, John Houston found gold at Tranquille Creek. This was one of the finds which spurred the Fraser gold rush.

OILY HAIR
When one's hair is especially oily in texture, an occasional dry shampoo of finely-powdered orris root is a splendid help. Put the powder through a fine sieve, sprinkle through the hair, and then brush out with a clean, dry brush until every particle of the powder has been removed.

BIG SUBDIVISION PLAN TO PROVIDE FOR 80 NEW LOTS

Work is progressing on providing road access to the 35-acre tract of the old 80-acre Arthur Ferguson property for which tentative subdivision plans were submitted to Central Saanich authorities last October.

The tract is bounded on the east by the Patricia Bay Highway, and on the south by Scott Road, which it follows to the waterfront at the James Island ferry landing. It is to be developed by Wakeman and Trimble, contractors, of Victoria.

Following approval by provincial authorities of the plan to separate the 35 acres from the original 80-acre property, Central Saanich council also approved the plan.

Eleven hundred feet of roadway are now being constructed to provide access to the separated portion of the tract. It is expected that 79 lots, ranging in size from half an acre to three-quarters of an acre each, will be available when subdivision is completed.

CATHOLIC MEN FORM GROUP ON PENINSULA

On Friday evening an organization of the men of the two Catholic churches of Saanich Peninsula was formed. About 40 attended or signified their interest in taking part. The meeting was held in the rectory on West Saanich Road and Rev. Fr. Philip Hanley outlined the function of the group.

Various members of the parish have been appointed to take charge of the different aspects of church maintenance and operation.

An advisory committee was appointed to include J. Reid Hamman, from Sidney, and Michael Dolan from West Saanich, with Frank Richards as chairman.

Other appointments included Mike Van Adrichem and Neville Shanks, choirmasters; J. Wilson and W. De Macedo, church maintenance; Konrad Welle, William Harris and W. J. Dunn, school construction; E. J. McLaughlin, ushers.
